Instructor: Selected Comments (Spring 2020)

Overall, I thought the instructor did a great job teaching the class and helping her students learn. I liked the homework assignments because they helped me practice the material we were learning and prepared me for exams. One thing I enjoyed was collaborating with other students about specific problems. By giving us that time to work with each other, I feel like we were better able to understand the information. Thanks for your time this semester!

Did an amazing job! You could tell she was interested in teaching and interested in our success as students. One of the best teachers on campus.

Before and after the transition, Thadcha did a tremendous job at putting her students first. She conducted surveys and made necessary changes when needed to better help students understand. She provided ample examples in various methods to suit all students. She encouraged discussion among the class and her individual responsiveness to questions and clarifications was greatly appreciated. Even after transitioning to online, Thadcha made sure her students' needs were met in all aspects.

Professor Panchalingam was amazing. It was a breath of fresh air in a very stagnant teaching pool to have a professor who actually cared. I hope that this is not just because she is new to the program and I hope as well that she is not discouraged by the lack of focus some students can present. For those of us that really care about learning and our education she was amazing.

I didn't realize how much I liked studying economics before this course. Thadcha is a fantastic teacher who clearly works hard to help students understand the material. The in person lectures were a little bit slow paced at times, but I appreciated that more in class practice problems were included after the midterm course evaluation. There aren't many professors that willing to change their plans to meet student needs! The problem sets before spring break were also very helpful in applying the material and making sure I really understood it. Thadcha truly adapted to online teaching more smoothly than any other professor I have. She really cares about students and has always been willing to go out of her way to help them succeed. Thank you for a great course!

Independent Lab Instructor: Selected Comments (Fall 2019)

Thadcha was a very good teacher, especially in office hours. I really appreciated her willingness to explain things when I was confused. She also always had very helpful pdfs from lab and I really appreciated the study guide she posted for the excel final.

I could tell that she genuinely wanted to help her students understand what she was teaching and didn't hesitate to offer help and answer questions. I also really appreciated how she responded very quickly to emails.

I think it was very helpful that the professor went through the lab material during the class with us. I think this is one reason why I understood the material as well as I did.
